Snack lovers' Adventure

Feeling hungry? A common snack in La República Dominicana is 'picadas'. Picadas is a plate full of food you can eat in your hunt—little pieces of ham, cheese and salami, savoury biscuits, olives and hard boiled eggs. You could add some other healthy favourites too.

Alternatively, you might like to try the recipe for Yaniqueques a popular savoury snack you can buy at little stalls at the beach. Follow the link on the Specialist Website for this recipe. As it involved frying in hot oil, make sure you have an adult helping out.

Dancing Adventure

Merengue and Bachata are two styles of music that are super popular in La República Dominicana.

Children learn these dance steps at home, and as part of learning at school. Click on the website and join the fun!

Coastal Explorers' Adventure

Click on the link on the website of a day trip to a reef off the coast, and take in the beauty of nature.

The Bunurong Coast is an amazing place to explore. Head out if the weather is fine and drive somewhere special on the coast road.

Designers' Adventure

Warm weather, palm trees, crystal clear water, and nothing more to do than swim in the sea or a swimming pool—that's the kind of holiday that people from all around the world find when they arrive in La República Dominicana.

This adventure involves you designing a super-duper-fancy-deluxe swimming pool for a new hotel in La República Dominicana. What would it look like—would you have different areas, water slides, or even some where you could sit and watch a movie from the water? Would it have water cannons, tropical fish or even tunnels to swim through? Could your pool have colour changing water, trampolines or a Nerf area?

You can:

- Look at online images of pool designs
- Make a model out of playdough, lego or other building materials
- Draw a sketch of your design—add colourful flowers or precise measurements, whatever you please
- Write an imaginative writing piece about your pool—you might like to use the Treehouse series of books as an inspiration!
